

Bright Future for SGU Grads

SGU has become the 4th largest source of doctors for the entire US workforce

According to a recent census conducted by the Journal of Medical Regulations, SGU has become the 4th largest source of doctors for the entire US workforce. With this extensive network of graduates, a strong expanding clinical program, excellent student support services, and a consistent record of residency placement over the last four years, our current and future students are in a great position for success.
